A lot to do this weekend

Let's see – there's the Parks and Recreation Department's Harbor Cruise on Friday night, the annual Sand Castle Day event Saturday afternoon at Yirrell Beach, the Viking Pride Foundation's Great Reunion at Miller Field on Saturday night and the Winthrop Lodge of Elks' Flag Day Ceremony and Citizen of the Year presentation on Sunday afternoon at the Lodge on Washington Avenue.

Seems like Winthropites will be busy this weekend. All are expected to be fun events and will benefit a number of worthy causes in town. A limited amount of tickets were still available as of Wednesday morning, both for the Harbor Cruise on Friday night and the Great Reunion on Saturday night, so get your tickets now, before you miss out.

Congratulations to Rich Fucillo

Speaking of the Viking Pride Foundation, it was nice to see that founder and president Richard Fucillo was recognized for his efforts by the New England Patriots last week.

Fucillo was one of 20 Community MVP winners who were recognized for contributions within their communities. In addition to receiving an award from the Patriots at Gillette Stadium, Fucillo also brought home a check for $1,500 for Viking Pride from the New England Patriots Charitable Foundation.

If we know Rich, he was more thankful for the check than he was for any of the attention he received this past week.
